What makes Workday different.

We took a different approach to our design than other vendors and created a single cloud-based system for finance, HR, planning, and analytics. Because of our unique architecture, along with our object-based in-memory technology, we're able to deliver engaging experiences, complete visibility, robust security, and continuous innovations shared across our entire customer community.

Build your insurance firm to adapt to what's next.

Attract and grow talent.

Recruiting top talent and keeping them engaged isn't just the responsibility of HR. That's why we help teams across the organization align on talent objectives, and connect your workers' career goals with tomorrow's business demands.

Become more efficient.

With machine learning embedded into your financial processes, you can shorten close times, improve decision-making, and reduce your total cost of ownership.
